Event Report

Event : International Webinar on Post Lockdown Economic Scenario : India and Bangladesh

Date: 1st August, 2020

Objective: It was organized to make participants aware of the adverse effect of lockdown on the economic condition of people of India and Bangladesh and urge them to think about the way out of this difficult situation

Description: During the challenging time of lockdown, the teaching staff of Department of Commerce made an effort to carry on the academic activities by engaging online classes and organizing webinars. It was decided in the departmental meeting that the topic of webinar would be Post Lockdown Economic Scenario: India and Bangladesh. The topic was considered relevant as it would facilitate learners to understand the financial constraints of people of India and the neighbouring country Bangladesh due to lockdown and their suffering properly. The webinar was organized on 1st August, 2020. A considerable number of participants joined the webinar. In the beginning, the coordinator of IQAC addressed the participants and pointed out the purpose and theme of the webinar. Thereafter, the Principal accorded warm welcome to all participants. The distinguished speakers were introduced by the departmental teachers and they threw light on the topic of the webinar elaborately. The distinguished speaker CA Sunil Kumar Gandhi, Professor, Accounting and Finance, University of Kalyani threw light on the economic issues of India. He elaborately discussed how Indian economy suffered a setback during lockdown prompted by COVID. He touched upon the suffering of migrant workers and loss of job of many people due to closure of firms. He presented statistical data and made power point presentation in support of his view. Another distinguished speaker DR. Arabinda Saha, Dean, Faculty of Business Administration and Professor, Department of Accounting and Information System, Islamic University, Kusthia, Bangladesh, delivered scholarly lecture on the topic of the webinar. He took up the economic issue of Bangladesh and pointed out how the economy of Bangladesh faced doldrums during the lockdown prompted by the pandemic. His lecture was also enriched by the power point presentation. At the end of their lecture, several questions were raised by the participants. The speakers answered those questions satisfactorily during the interactive session. After the lecture of the distinguished speakers, DR. Ananda Mohan Pal, Professor, Department of Business Management, University of Calcutta, delivered the valedictory address highlighting the main points of the discussion which came up in the webinar. Finally the webinar came to an end with the vote of thanks conducted by Smt. Sarbani Sarkar, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics.

Feedback:

1. The webinar engaged students in academic activity during the lockdown period.

2. It widened the knowledge of learners and other participants about the economic scenario of India and its neighbour Bangladesh and the suffering of people of both nations.
3. The response of learners and other participants was quite satisfactory.
4. Participants found the webinar useful and enlightening.
